To the Office of Senator De Leon:

The California Civil Liberties Advocacy (CCLA) SUPPORTS Senate Bill No. 54. In supporting the federal system's actions in our broken immigration system, California supports a policy which is detrimental to the economy of California. California shall not be adequately compensated for our state's input into the massive-scale data collection that our Federal Government is creating for the sake of law enforcement lists, nor shall our state directly gain from the increased infrastructure of the information mining. Therefore, the diversion of our state's infrastructure shall be a large waste of man-hours. What does California truly gain from this interaction?

Respectfully,

Nicholas Gonzales
Legislative Advocate for CCLA
